Mr. Emery stated he feels all applications would benefit the community if they were funded.

Mr. Negley stated based on the scoring rubric the Sheriff's Office Paws for Purpose program scored the highest, and Wings' Criminal Justice Community Support scored second.

Commissioner McCarthy asked Mr. Negley what he feels is the largest gap in the community that would benefit from this funding, and Mr. Negley stated the mobile crisis unit.

Commissioner McCarthy stated he would like to target specific community needs, and help with these gaps.

Mr. Negley stated this committee has the discretion to decide how and why projects will be funded.

Commissioner McCarthy asked if there could be a second round of grant applications to target these needs, and Mr. Negley stated he would feel more comfortable waiting until legal council could be consulted.

Mr. Negley stated the Committee is looking at possibly readvertising the grant to address concerns they feel are a top priority to Union County.

Mr. Gray stated the grant can be readvertised with a different notice stating specific proposals they want to be addressed.

Commissioner McCarthy asked for the top priorities for the community, and Mr. Negley stated crisis system for behavioral health and supportive employment for those in recovery from addiction. Mental Health and Recovery currently has OneOhio state grant funds to help with this gap. Mr. Negley stated he does not want to duplicate that work for this purpose, rather compliment it.

Commissioner McCarthy asked how many individuals need this type of assistance, and Mr. Negley stated there are between 80 and 90 people in Recovery Court at a time.

Mr. Negley stated it could be beneficial to find employers who are willing to employ individuals who need support and partner with them.

Commissioner McCarthy asked if any of the large employers in the area are offering these types of services to their employees who need help with addiction or behavioral health, and Mr. Negley stated most companies offer aid, but no further assistance.

Mr. Negley stated even if only five individuals were supported with this type of service, it could grow every year and would be a huge win in this community. Wings' proposal was along these lines, and it could be a partnership.

Mr. Emery stated he would like to promote this again for another round of funding for another organization.

Ms. Lehman stated the next step for the Paws for Purpose funding is getting the Board of Commissioners' approval.
