UNION COUNTY PROBATE COURT

12928
Filed
Feb. 8-1936.

In the Matter of The Estate of Jennie E. Herriott, Deceased.
In the Probate Court of Union County.

State of Ohio, Union County, ss:
In the Matter of the Estate of Case No. 12928.
Jennie E. Herriott, Deceased. Exceptions to Final Account.

Now comes Clayton Herriott and represents to the Court that he is an heir at law of the decedent, Jennie E. Herriott, and excepts to the application of extra compensation for extra administrator and attorney fees herein filed by Howard Black, Executor of the Estate of Jennie E. Herriott, deceased, and designated as the "Application", and says that said account is not true and correct in the following manner, to-wit:

Clayton E. Herriott.

The State of Ohio, County of Summit, ss:

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence this 5th. day of February 1936.

Seal of Henry H. Pleasant - Notary Public.

Filed
Mar. 20-1936.

In the Probate Court, Union County, Ohio.
In the Matter of the Estate of Case No. 12928.
Jennie E. Herriott, Deceased. Memorandum on Exceptions to Account of Howard C. Black, Executor.

The question in this case upon which the court has advised us that he desires information and authority is as to whether Howard C. Black, as Executor, is entitled to extra compensation for services he has rendered this estate, both in the administration of the estate and in the defense of a suit to contest the Will of Jennie E. Herriott, which suit was brought by Clayton Herriott, and whether he is entitled to credit in his account for fees he has paid his attorneys for work done in the administration of the estate and for services rendered by his attorneys in defending the contest to the Will suit.

The law in Ohio upon the right of an executor to compensation for defending a suit to contest a will, and his right to pay the fees of attorneys employed by him for that purpose, is discussed in Volume 18, Ohio Jurisprudence, on Pages 440, 441 and 442. The rule in Ohio is that even though the executor is personally interested in sustaining the will, but has defended the action at the request of the other beneficiaries under the will, or has defended the action as an executor due to the fact that certain terms of the will could not be carried out if such action were not defended by him as an executor, then he is entitled and has the right to pay attorney fees from the assets of the estate.

RECORD OF ACCOUNTS

We are of the opinion that the Court fully realizes that the services the attorneys rendered in this case for and on behalf of the estate, without in any way considering the services rendered to Howard C. Black, as an individual, are well worth the amount charged by the attorneys, and the fees as allowed, therefore, are not excessive. The amount which we are charging Howard C. Black as an individual for the services rendered him as a legatee and devisee under the will is not of interest to this Court, but we are claiming that the amount of fees for services rendered to the estate and to the devisees and legatees of the will who requested Howard C. Black to defend their interests, as such executor, are reasonable as allowed, and that the Court should therefore overrule the exceptions filed to Mr. Black's account.

The will of Jennie E. Herriott made it necessary for Howard C. Black, as an executor, to appear and defend in the suit which was filed by Clayton Herriott, for the purpose of carrying out the intentions and the will of the testatrix.

Item 2 of the will reads as follows:

"I do give and bequeath to the Trustees of the old cemetery at Jerome, Union County, Ohio, in which my parents and a brother are buried, the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, to be known as the "Smith H. and Jennie E. Herriott Fund", the full principal of said fund to be kept intact and the income arising therefrom only to be used to take care of the graves of my said parents and brother."

This item specifically provides for the creation of a trust fund for the maintenance of the graves of the parents and brother of the testatrix. The Trustees of the old cemetery at Jerome receive no beneficial interest from this item, and therefore would not be in any position to hire an attorney or to incur any expenses in defending the action or to contest the will. If the will had been broken the graves of the parents and brother of the testatrix would have gone uncared for, and the intention and purpose of the testatrix in making this will would not have been carried out. It was therefore necessary for Howard C. Black to defend the action as executor under the will, because he was appointed the legal representative of the testatrix and his duty required him to appear as such executor, employ the services of counsel and defend the action.

UNION COUNTY PROBATE COURT

Item 3 of the will reads as follows:
 "I do give and bequeath to the Trustees of the new cemetery at Plain City, Madison County, Ohio, in which my brother, Smith H. Herriott is buried and in which I expect to be buried, the sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, to be known as the "Smith H. and Jennie E. Herriott Fund". I direct that the principal amount of the fund be kept intact as a perpetual fund, the income only to be used to take care of the graves of my said brother and myself."

This item placed the executor in exactly the same position as Item 2, and here again it was necessary for him to defend the action as executor under the will so that the grave of testatrix' brother and her own grave would be kept in good condition.

Item 4 of the will establishes a trust fund in the name of "Smith H. and Jennie E. Herriott" for the Methodist Episcopal Church at Jerome, and Item 5 establishes a trust fund in the name of "Smith H. and Jennie E. Herriott" for the Rebekah Lodge at Jerome, and Item 6 establishes a trust fund in the name of "Smith H. and Jennie E. Herriott" for the benefit of the Public Library at Jerome.

Under all of these items, at the request of the different legatees, it was necessary for Howard C. Black, as executor, to defend the action in the Common Pleas Court.

It appears to us that there can be absolutely no question, when this will is considered, that Howard C. Black not only had the privilege, but it was his duty, to defend the contest of this will for and on behalf of the legatees and devisees under the will, and for and on behalf of Jennie E. Herriott who had placed trust and confidence in him and appointed him executor of her will, with the thought and the intention that he would see that the terms of the will were carried out in full.

We also wish to call the court's attention to the fact that whatever fees and expenses are paid from the estate of Jennie E. Herriott, Mr. Black, as an individual, is paying one-half thereof, and that he has many times vindicated to the court that he felt and roges of the opinion that the fees for the services rendered by the attorneys for the estate were very reasonable.

The fee which we have charged Mr. Black for representing him as an individual is entirely a matter between ourselves and Mr. Black, and we want to assure the court that he has been perfectly satisfied with this fee.

Respectfully submitted,
 Hoopes & Sandus - attorneys for Howard C. Black - Executor.

In the Matter of The Estate of Jennie E. Herriott, Deceased.
 State of Ohio, Union County, ss: In the Probate Court.
 In the Matter of the Estate of No. 12928.
 Jennie E. Herriott, Deceased. Brief on Exceptions to Account of Howard C. Black, Executor.

Clayton E. Herriott was the nephew of Jennie E. Herriott, who died on the sixteenth day of April, 1935, at the age of 74 years, leaving an estate of over $18,000, and leaving said Clayton E. Herriott as her only heir at law and next of kin; that on the twenty-second day of April, 1935, a certain paper writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of the said Jennie E. Herriott, bearing date of October 15, 1934, was admitted to probate in Probate Court of Union County, Ohio, and letters testamentary were issued by the said Probate Court to Howard C. Black (as sole executor), and thereafter the said Howard C. Black duly qualified as such executor; that by the terms of the said will the said Jennie E. Herriott bequeathed to the Plain City Cemetery the sum of $500.00; to Jerome Township Cemetery, $500.00; to Jerome Rebekah Lodge, $300.00; to Jerome M. E. Church, $300.00; to Jerome Library, $300.00; to Francis Herriott, $100.00, and to Marvin Wolfe, $100.00, making a total distribution to the above-named legatees of $2,100.00, and that the balance of the estate, approximately $15,900.00, should be divided equally between Clayton E. Herriott and Howard C. Black.

Because of the large bequest to Howard C. Black, who was the legal representative of Jennie E. Herriott, the said Clayton E. Herriott, on June 29, 1935, filed an action in the Court of Common Pleas of Union County, Ohio, to set aside the certain paper writing purporting to be the last will and testament of the said Jennie E. Herriott, naming in said action, among others, the said Howard C. Black as executor of said estate and individually; that after the elapse of six months from the time of probating the said will, the defendant, Howard C. Black, through his attorneys, Hoopes + Sanders and Frank Raymond, filed a motion to dismiss the petition on the ground that no summons had been issued until after October 28, 1935, and that under the provisions of Section 12087 of the Ohio General Code an action to contest a will shall be brought within six months after the will has been admitted to probate, which motion was sustained by the Court.

The said Howard C. Black, as executor of the aforesaid estate, in his final account, is asking for extra compensation as such executor of $500.00, besides the normal compensation of $441.00 allowed by law, and for attorneys' fees of $1,000.00 to Hoopes + Sanders and $500.00 to Frank Raymond, to which account the said Clayton E.

Herriott excepted.

Upon cross-examination of the said Howard C. Black, he admitted that the extra compensation was for work done in investigating the law and writing a brief in defending the content of the will so that he would be prepared to carry the case up to the Court of Appeals, if necessary. He further testified that the fee of $500.00 asked by Frank Raymond was in connection with the preparation of the will contest case and that the said Frank Raymond performed no services for the estate; that the fee asked by Hoopes + Sanders included both services rendered in the administration of the estate and for the defense of the will contest action and of interviewing various witnesses to be used at the time of trial, but that the said Hoopes + Sanders had not been retained until after the said Howard C. Black had been appointed as executor of the estate and had filed his inventory and appraisement and knew that there was to be a dispute about the will.

Clayton Herriott testified that his sole purpose for contesting the will was due to the large bequest to Howard C. Black and that he had promised all the other defendants in the action that he would carry out the terms of his aunt's will, with the exception of the bequest to Howard C. Black.

Argument.

We contend:

1. That Howard C. Black performed no services for which he was entitled to extra compensation, and that the services he did perform were done for his own benefit and he alone was to benefit by having the will sustained. The services, if of any benefit to the estate, were so commingled with his own benefit as to preclude him from claiming same against the estate.

2. That an executor cannot be allowed credit in his account for expenses incurred in sustaining a successful defense of a will where the attack on the will was solely due to a large bequest which was made to the executor.

41 Ohio Jurisprudence, page 557, paragraph 429:

"Persons liable for Counsel Fees. Under ordinary circumstances, those claiming under the will are the proper parties to defend it when it is assailed; hence, an executor is not bound to assume the burden of the defense of a contest of the will by the heirs at law, but may properly throw the same upon the devisees or legatees."

Weir v. Weir, 7 C. C. Rep. (N.S.) 289. The syllabus in this case reads as follows:

"1. Whether an executor can be allowed credit in his account for expenses incurred in the successful defense of the will depends upon the circumstances of each particular case.

RECORD OF ACCOUNTS

"2. In a case where the attack on the will was chiefly due to the fact that a large special bequest was made to the executor, such an allowance is not permissible, the hardship cast upon the legatee in making the defense against an attack which was perhaps not justified being only one of the burdens incident to the acquisition and ownership of property."

At the bottom of page 290 of the opinion, the court, per felke, Swing and Wheeler, J.J., concur in the following:

"It is true that the will was sustained. An examination of the will and the subsequent contest, however, discloses that the special objection to such will and the issue which invited attack was a special legacy of twelve thousand dollars left to the said Elizabeth Weir, who was also made executrix. Had the executor named in said will been some trust company, or some disinterested stranger, would not such stranger executor have felt that the burden of sustaining this will should fall upon and be borne by the legatee especially interested in having said will sustained?"

Chancery always insists that where a trustee's duty or the interest of the trust estate is being balanced against the private individual interests of such trustee, the individual interest is to yield, and all doubts and uncertain charges are to be resolved in favor of the trust estate. If Elizabeth Weir, executrix, had abandoned the will contest, which she had a right to do under the law, would not Elizabeth Weir, legatee, have taken it up and have made in her own interest exactly the same defense and have employed the same counsel and have incurred the same expense as was done herein?"

We believe this case is squarely on all fours with the case at bar and resolves the issues herein in favor of Clayton E. Herriott.

Right in line with the last-quoted case and following same is the case of In the Matter of the Estate of Wm. L. Curry, 20 Ohio N.O.P. Rep. (N.S.) 498. Paragraphs 2 and 3 of the syllabus read as follows:

"2. Under ordinary circumstances those claiming under the will are the proper parties to defend it when assailed, and as a general proposition an executrix is not called upon to engage in the contest and charge the estate with the expense thereof.

"3. A circumstance of great weight is her interest or lack thereof in the result of the contest. If a devisee under the will, she is interested in sustaining the validity thereof and a presumption arises that she engaged in the contest in defense of her own personal interest, and because thereof she may not, if successful, charge the estate with her proper expenses unless it appear that she assumed the burden from disinterested motives and that her defense inured to the benefit of the whole estate."

At page 56 of the opinion, Bowman, J., said: "In view of the fact that she was a legatee and because thereof directly interested in sustaining the validity of said will, it is quite probable that her assumption of the defense of said will was not entirely a disinterested effort on her part as executrix to maintain the will regardless of any personal interest she may have had in the result of the contest. On the contrary, it is quite natural that in making said defense she was largely, if not entirely, controlled by because of her personal interest in sustaining the will. If so, the case would fall within the general rule that an administrator or executor can not be allowed counsel fees incurred for services rendered in defense of his own personal interest, or where the litigation is in reality between the beneficiaries, and not for the benefit or in the interest of the estate as a whole. See Whitlow's Estate, 184 Mo. App. 229, 246, 247; 2d Woerner's American Law of Administration (2d. Ed.), Section 516."

In their brief counsel for Howard C. Black, executor, cite 18 Ohio Jurisprudence, pages 440, et seq. Turning to page 440 of their citation, under the heading of Executors and Administrators, at section 344, we find:

Contest of Will.- Whether an executor shall be allowed credit for expenses incurred in suits where the will is assailed depends upon the circumstances of the particular case, as ordinarily those claiming under the will are the parties most interested, and therefore the proper ones to defend the will, and the executor is not bound to do so. But if an executor assumed the burden and is successful, he may be allowed expenses incurred, though he has no absolute right thereto. Even where the controlling factor is the personal interest of the executor or lacks thereof in the result of the contest, and his effort is disinterested, the court may allow the executor credit. But when the executor is a devisee or legatee under the will, a presumption arises that he defends because of his own personal interest in sustaining its validity. On the latter case counsel fees, as a rule, cannot be allowed unless it appears that the executor actually defended from disinterested motives."

We respectfully submit to this Court that from the very nature of this case the executor defended this suit for his own personal interest, and that any and all fees of himself for extra compensation for attorneys' fees or for attorneys' fees for Hooper + Sanders should, therefore, be done by himself individually. On any event, the amount of attorney's fees to Hoopes & Sanders should be limited to the amount of actual work done by them in the administration of the estate, and certainly the amounts claimed both for extra compensation and for services of Hoopes & Sanders are entirely disproportional to the actual work involved in this cause.

RECORD OF ACCOUNTS

Respectfully submitted,
Henry H. Pleasant,
Attorney for Clayton E. Herriott.

UNION COUNTY PROBATE COURT

Executor's Account

Casper Scheidner, Executor of the Estate of George Schwartzkopf Declared, in account with said estate. Second Partial Account.

Said accountant says that the supplemental account of John Schwartzkopf heretofore, on August 15th. 1933, filed herein should be corrected in the following particulars:

The amount in which the accountant therein charged himself, instead of $1798.98, should have been $1900.64

(Because $0.50 in cash, not shown in the executor's bank account, was advanced from some source or from some person unknown to the accountant herein, and was used in payment of court costs, and is included in the item of expenditures for which Voucher No. 18 is a receipt, but is not included in the items for which that accountant charged himself.)

(Also because the item of "Casper Scheidner, rent of farm, $200.28" should have been "Casper Scheidner, rent of farm, $301.44. The sum of $200.28 represents only the actual cash received by that accountant, and the balance of said rent was paid by giving credit to said Casper Scheidner in the amount of $101.16 for board of the widow and for labor. The item of the credit of $101.16 is shown by Voucher No. 20, but said amount is not shown by that accountant to have been received by him in payment of the rent.)

The amount in which the accountant therein credited himself, instead of $1360.87, should have been 1361.07

(Because $0.20 government tax on checks was omitted.)

The amount of balance of said supplemental account, and likewise the amount of the checking account in the Bank of Marysville, should therefore have been $539.57

Said accountant charges himself as follows:

Statement in lieu of and for an account.

Probate Court, Union County, Ohio.

In the Matter of the Estate of John George Rausch, Deceased.

This day Carl A. Rausch, Administrator of the Estate of John George Rausch, deceased, states:

That no property or estate of any kind whatsoever belonging to the estate of said decedent has come to the possession or knowledge of this affiant as such Administrator except a small amount of chattel property, which by agreement of all the heirs has been turned over to the widow, and the heirs have themselves advanced from their own funds a sufficient amount of money to pay all the debts and expenses of administration.

That there is no estate of any kind whatsoever, either now or in expectancy, of said decedent to the knowledge of this affiant.

That said appointment was made for the purpose of perfecting the title to real estate.

accountants further say that they have on hand for Esther Ray and James Moore the sum of $248.77, they being the children of Wm. Moore, Dec'd, and Wm. Moore, Dec'd, being the son of James Moore, Dec'd; that A. A. Buller, Deshler, Ohio, holds a claim for fun. exp. rendered Wm. Moore, Dec'd, in an amt. much greater than the sum of $248.77; that to waive unnecessary litigation accountants have tried to make an agreement whereby Mr. Buller would accept a compromise of $200 for fun. exp. and the bal. to be paid to Esther Ray and James Moore, to which neither Esther Ray nor James Moore will agree, and for that reason, A. A. Buller as such claimant has a lien against the share of Wm. Moore, Dec'd, and said sum is returned to said accts. subject to disposition in conformity to whatever order the Probate Judge may make in the premises after due notice has been given to Esther Ray and James Moore, through their attorney, Fred Markely, of Kenton, Ohio.

Statement.

Shortly after the approval of the account dated September 2nd., 1933, the heirs of Albert Warner, deceased, were insisting upon payment of the amount due them under item 3 of the will of Parintha Embree before the ancillary administration of her estate in the County Court of the State of Oregon for Deschutes County, was completed. There were not sufficient funds in the hands of the Executor to pay the legacies mentioned in Item 3 and those mentioned in Item 4 of the will, and a settlement was negotiated by the attorneys for the Executor and the attorney for all of the heirs of Albert Warner, deceased, whereby they accepted the sum of $225.00 in full settlement of the legacy in Item 3 and of all other claims against the estate of Parintha Embree, deceased. Since the negotiation of that settlement there has never been sufficient funds in the hands of the Executor to pay the legacies mentioned in Item 4 of $100.00 to the Utterbein Home of the State of Ohio, $100.00 to The Congregational Home Mission Society, $100.00 to The American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions, $50.00 to The Doniphau, Neb., $100.00 to The Congregational American Mission Association, and $50.00 to The Congregational Ministerial Relief. These legacies total the sum of $500.00 and if they are paid in full the ancillary administrators in the State of Oregon will be required to furnish the sum of $133.55 for that purpose. Louise C. Stahl was indebted to Michael Wheeler Stahl upon two notes, one of which was for $125.00 dated February 1st, 1916, and bearing 6% interest upon which a payment of $150.00 was made on April 25th, 1922. At that time there was due on this note $171.13, principal and interest. The payment left a balance still due of $21.13, and this with interest to the date of her death amounted to $33.77.

The other note was for $350.00 dated April 10th, 1915, bearing interest at 6% upon which a payment of $150.00 was made on April 25th, 1922. At the time of this payment there was due upon the note and interest the sum of $497.88, leaving a balance unpaid on this note of $347.88. This balance with interest to the date of the death of Louise C. Stahl amounted to $557.29, and the total due upon both notes amounted to $591.06. As Michael Wheeler Stahl received the 50 acre tract of land mentioned in the will, and as there was not sufficient personal estate to pay these notes and the executor did not decide to sell the real estate, Michael Wheeler Stahl credited these notes as against the land he had received, the amount thereof being deducted from the appraised value of his real estate for the purpose of inheritance taxes.

At the time of the Inventory of the estate there was set off to Anna Mary Beer her 30% of the estate or $596, and her apais allowance of $500.00 and there was also due from said estate to her the sum of $100.00 with interest at 5% from Dec. 1, 1933 on a note given her by her husband. In order to pay the debts and close the estate the children and heirs to the estate and their wives made and executed a quit claim deed to her for the land and she borrowed $1500.00 of W. E. Travel to pay debts. These sums would be a charge against the land should it be sold but because she not has title to the land she receives payment except as they may represent her interest in real estate when sold, together with her right to the value of her dower therein.
