Organization and Incorporation of the Society of the Congregational Church

The members of the Second Presbyterian Church of Abbeysville having held several meetings, with a view to changing the organization and name of the Church, and having resolved to organize as a Congregational Church and Society - the Church to take the name of the Congregational Church of Abbeysville, and the Society to take the name of the Society of the Congregational Church of Abbeysville, and having adopted the following as a basis of union, between the Church and the Society, viz,

- 1st The Society shall hold the property and and receive the income, and make all pecuniary engagements, appropriations, and payments.
- 2^d In calling a Pastor, the Church and Society will act as concurrent bodies - a majority of each being necessary to constitute a call, the Church nominating, and the Society confirming or rejecting the nomination.
- 3^d The Church will provide for the supply of the pulpit, when there is no settled Pastor, make the necessary arrangements for singing, and in general for the orderly celebration for religious worship; and the Society; and the Society will liquidate all reasonable expenses thereby incurred.

Having also, as preliminary to the organization of said Society, adopted by laws for the control of the same, and having in article 3^d section 1st of said by laws, provided that the corporate rights and interests of said Society shall be vested in a Board of Five Trustees, (three of whom shall be members of the Church in good and regular standing;) An adjourned meeting was held in the Church on Monday evening November 14th 1864, (due notice of which had been previously given for the purpose of consummating the organisation of the society of the congregational Church of Marysville, by the election of the requisite number of Trustees; and a clerk;

Rev. Walter Mitchell presided as Moderator, the names of all the members of the church were called by the clerk, including those non-resident as well as those residing in Marysville or in its vicinity. Thirty five answered to their names, and thirty four were not present.

A majority of all the members being present, the meeting proceeded to ballot for trustees - Samuel C. Lee and Samuel Dolbear were appointed Tellers - and on taking the ballots and counting the same, they announced that John Guthrie, Abram Morey, William Beatonell, P. B. Cole and Wm. H. Doll, were duly elected trustees, having received a majority of the votes cast. William Lee was then nominated for clerk of the society, and the requisite number of votes having been given was declared duly elected.

I, William Lee, clerk of the society of the congregational church of Marysville hereby certify that the foregoing is a true statement of the proceedings in organising said society, and that statement is taken from minutes made by me as clerk of the several meetings referred to.
