WARNING

SCAM ALERT

Grandparent Scams

Don't be fooled by calls representing your grandkids needing money. Call their house and ask if everything is okay; don't just give your money to the caller!

These scammers are either going to ask for gift cards, wire money, or tell you someone will come to your door to pick up the cash. Once you hand over money it is gone.

Remember:

- Don't give money over the phone or provide your address
- Check your social media privacy settings and limit what you share online about your family

If you have experienced this type of scam, please contact your local law enforcement agency.

SCAM ALERT

How to spot a government impersonator

Scammers often disguise themselves as people working for the government and might pretend to offer help. But, really, they're after your money or personal information. For Pride Month, the FTC wants the LGBTQ+ community to know about government imposter scams and how to avoid them.

Government imposters may call to “verify your Social Security number,” or say your Social Security number or Medicare benefits have been “suspended” due to a mix-up. Scammers may say your tax returns must be done differently because of a name change – and they need your Social Security number to fix it. For recently married people, or a trans person who recently changed their name, the excuses scammers use might make sense. But wait right there. Scammers are just phishing for personal information they can use to steal your identity or take your money.

So how do you spot it and stop it? Here's what to know:

- Scammers call, email, or text you for money or information.

But the government won't. Anyone who calls, emails, or texts, asking for money or personal information and claims to be from the government is a scammer. Hang up and don't respond to messages.

How to spot a government impersonator, continued

- Scammers tell you how to pay – usually by wiring money, cryptocurrency, or gift card. Nobody legit will ever tell you to pay in any of those ways. If they call, hang up the phone. If they email, text, or message you, don't click on any links. It's a scam.
- Even if your caller ID says it's from the government, it could be a scam. Caller ID can be faked. Even if it shows the government agency's real phone number, or even if it says something like "Social Security Administration," it could be anyone calling from anywhere in the world. Don't trust it.

SENIOR WATCH

Telephone Call Program

The Union County Sheriff's Office operates a call system purchased with Senior Services Sales Tax Dollars for the Senior Watch Program. The system automatically calls households checking on the resident to ensure that they are OK. Senior Watch will redial the number several times. If there is no response, a message can be provided to a family member or a monitoring center informing them that the resident is not responding to the call. This is a free service provided to any Union County resident. Call Deputy Crabtree at the Sheriff's Office, 937.645.4100, ext. 4310, to be added to the call list. This program is funded through the Union County Senior Services Sales Tax.

SCAM ALERT

Scammers are tricking more people into buying gift cards

“Most gift card scams start with a phone call from someone impersonating a branch of the government like the Social Security Administration, or a business. The caller might threaten to freeze your bank account and tell you that you must buy gift cards to avoid arrest or to keep access to your money in your bank account. They will tell you to stay on the phone as you head to the store to buy gift cards....” (Federal Trade Commission– consumer.ftc.gov)

PROJECT LIFESAVER

Tracking for those at risk to wander

Project Lifesaver, offered through the Union County Sheriff's Office, is a rapid response program to locate people who wander away from caregivers because of impairment, such as Alzheimer's Disease, Down Syndrome, Autism or other developmental disorders. Using radio transmitted signals, Project Lifesaver has been credited with saving lives and tracking at-risk residents in minimal time all across the nation. The cost of the program is being paid for by local civic organizations, businesses and public and private agencies. There will be no initial cost to the resident. Residents must apply for acceptance into the program. Once in the program, the resident will be visited monthly by a Union County Deputy, Public Safety Officer to check the resident's well-being and the transmitter. If you would like to learn more about this project, call Deputy Crabtree at the Sheriff's Office, 937.645.4100, ext. 4310. This program is funded in part through the Union County Senior Services Sales Tax.

SCAM ALERT

Let's talk about Coronavirus scams

During this past year, the COVID-19 pandemic and its economic fall-out have reminded us how important it is to help each other through difficult times.

Here are some things to share:

- COVID-19 vaccines are free. If anyone charges you for help signing up or the shot itself, it's a scam.
- Scammers may pose as the government and contact you to ask for payment – in cash, gift cards, wire transfer, or cryptocurrency. The government will never ask you to pay in any of those ways, but scammers will.
- FEMA's not reaching out to register you for the new U.S. government program to help with funeral costs of family members who died due to COVID-19. FEMA will not contact you before you register with them. Only scammers will.
- Online shopping on a site you don't usually do business with, search online for their name plus "complaint," "review," and "scam." See what others think of them before you hand over your credit card number.
- Think critically about your sources of information. When you're looking for pandemic-related help, start with sites like coronavirus.gov and usa.gov/coronavirus to get the latest information directly from the government.

SCAM ALERT

Donating money to charity... Know where your money is going

When there is a need throughout the US people hear about it and want to donate. Scammers hear about it too and see it as an opportunity to get money in their pockets.

The Federal Trade Commission has heard reports of dishonest people setting up accounts on cryptocurrency exchange platforms. They're lying and saying that any donations they collect will help the people in need, but they are using their own wallet address.

Research before donating.

- Check out the charity organization or individual requesting donations. Search online for the name of the group, plus words like "review", "scam", or "complaint". And see what groups like the BBB Wise Giving Alliance, Charity Navigator, and Charity Watch are saying about the charity you're considering. For more information on how to research organizations, visit ftc.gov/charity.
- Before donating money by using cryptocurrency, do an online search of the wallet address. Confirm that you're sending money to the real address. Anyone can create websites and social media posts requesting that you donate. Visit ftc.gov/cryptocurrency for more information on avoiding crypto scams.

If you spot a scam, report it to ReportFraud.ftc.gov and to your state attorney general.

SCAM ALERT

Identity Theft ... Stay Aware

Identity thieves have been busier than ever during the pandemic.

They have been after people's information to apply for credit, unemployment benefits, file taxes, buy things, or get medical services.

Tips from the FTC to protect your identity:

- Read your credit card and bank statements carefully and often.
- Know your payment due dates. If a bill doesn't show up when you expect it, look into it.
- Read your health insurance plan statements. Make sure the claims paid match the care you received.
- Shred documents with any personal and financial information.
- Review your credit reports at least once a year. It's quick and it's free.

SCAM ALERT

Medicare Scam

Scammers call pretending to be from Medicare and want you to provide your Medicare number over the phone in order for you to get a new Medicare card or some type of medical equipment.

FTC experts shared how to avoid these scams:

- Hang up. If someone calls claiming to be from Medicare, asking for your Social Security number or bank information to get your new card or new benefits, that's a scam.
- Don't give personal information to a caller claiming to be from Medicare. You can't trust caller id. These calls can be spoofed so they look like they're coming from Medicare even when they're not. Before you give any personal information, initiate your own call to Medicare at 1-800-MEDICARE or 1-800-633-4227
- Report the call. Report Medicare imposters at 1-800-MEDICARE and ftc.gov/complaint. The more that's reported the more they can help fight scams.

If you have experienced this type of scam, please contact your local law enforcement agency.

SCAM ALERT

No Money, Honey.

Be aware that scammers are everywhere and dating sites can be a good place leaving you vulnerable. Scammers will make a fake profile on dating sites, apps and social media to find ways to first connect with you and then ask for money. They will say things like “Baby, I want to come see you but I’m short on funds. Can you send me $500 for a ticket?” or “I love you, honey. But we may not be able to talk anymore because my phone is about to get cut off. I need $300 to pay the bill....”.

The Federal Trade Commission reported that in the name of love, people send money. There are reports of $304 million in losses to romance scams in 2020 which is a 50% increase over 2019.

Below is the Federal Trade Commissions advice on how you can avoid these heartless imposters:

- If someone you’ve never met in person asks you for money, that’s a scam. No matter the story. Never send money or gifts to anyone you haven’t met in person—even if they send you money first.
- Only scammers tell you to buy gift cards, wire money, or send cryptocurrency. Once you send that money, you won’t get it back.
- Do a reverse image search of the person’s profile picture. See if it’s associated with another name or with details that don’t match up. Those are signs of a scam.

FILE OF LIFE

Union County Senior Services in cooperation with a panel of local law and medical professionals has put together a standardized File of Life form for Union County residents. The red magnetic File of Life is filled out by you and placed on the refrigerator or in your wallet or car listing current medical conditions, medications and preferences. Union County Emergency Responders are trained to look for this red pouch when called to a home where the patient is unconscious or unable to answer important questions. These forms are free of charge for any interested Union County senior, and are available by calling Senior Services (937) 644-1010. This program is funded through the Union County Senior Services Sales Tax.

ElderLife Solutions provides professional care management assistance for navigating life changes and advocacy for older adults at home or in community living.

SCAM ALERT

Tech Support Scams

Urgent message about a virus on your computer

Watch out for alarming notifications on your device that prompts you to call right away to avoid further problems. Typically the pop-up message indicates the problem is “urgent”. They will pretend to be tech support from Microsoft or Apple to make it seem reliable.

Below is advice on what to do from the FTC:

- If you get an unexpected call from someone saying there’s a problem with your computer, hang up. It’s a scam.
- Don’t click any links in an unexpected message or email. And never call phone numbers left in voicemails, emails, texts, or social media messages.
- Don’t give your personal or financial information in response to an unexpected request. Legitimate organizations won’t call or message asking for your Social Security, credit card, or bank account number, or your password.
- Update your computer’s security software. If you suspect a computer problem, run a security scan to find and remove malware. And turn on automatic updates so your security software can keep up with the latest protections against security threats

SCAM ALERT

How to spot and avoid common health scams

“Being a caregiver is stressful and scammers know that. In fact, dishonest companies will say almost anything to get you to buy their product or service.”

- Do some research. Search for the name of the treatment or product online, plus the words “review,” “complaint,” or “scam.”
- Ask a health professional first. Learn more about different treatments and if it will interact with other supplements or medications you may already be using.
- Be skeptical about products that come with guarantees or promises. Some companies want to take advantage of your hope.
- Know that “natural” doesn’t mean either safe or effective. Some natural products might interfere with treatments recommended by your doctor.
- Evaluate the claims. Ads must be truthful, not misleading. Don’t assume that some government agency has approved a claim just because you see it in an ad.
- Know that the government wouldn’t hide proven remedies for you.

If you think you’ve spotted a health scam, report to ReportFraud.ftc.gov and your local law enforcement.
